BODY OF H. W. THRELKELD ARRIVES FROM FRANCE

The body of Harry Worth Threlkeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edgar Threlkeld, of this city, arrived from France by way of Hoboken and Louisville Sunday morning. Charles M. Vodka, a soldier, accompanied the body from Louisville.

The remains were placed in a handsome copper lined casket, appropriately draped with a large American flag of beautiful texture. On arrival here the casket containing the body was taken to the Threlkeld home in Bellville street. The remains had previously been decorated with the national colors in honor of the son who had given his life for the flag.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. Homer I. Paris. The church was filled with sympathizing friends to pay a last respect to the dead soldier hero. The remains were laid to rest in the Marion cemetery.

Harry Worth Threlkeld left Marion with the contingent of May 2, 1918, for Camp Taylor. A short time afterward he was transferred to Camp Beauregard, Ark., where he remained until August 2, 1918, when he sailed for France, arriving there on September 9. He remained a few days in training at St. Etienne, then left for the battle front with Ambulance Co. 154 T. H. and arrived in two days' time at the front where the American was engaged. He died of bacterial pneumonia following an attack of the flu on December 12, 1918, and was buried at St. Etienne.

CHANCE TO GET INSTITUTE

The Commissioner of Agriculture has placed your county on tentative circuit of Farmers' Institutes. You people can get this interesting program if they want it and enough to make the advance man believe you will turn out for it. The Department has secured the services of such and women from the various state agricultural institutions and several from other states together with practical farmers. The farmer of today is called upon to have a greater diversity of information than the business man. This is a rare opportunity, and you do yourself an injustice if you fail to get the program for your county.

17 MEN IMPRISONED IN BURNING MINE

Five, believed to have originated from an electric wire, was discovered near the opening of the Arnold coal mine, near Harlington, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Seventeen miners, three white and fourteen colored, were imprisoned in the burning mine and at the time they were written were believed to be dead. The burning fire prevented any attempt at rescue until midnight. Then a rescue party entered the mine only to be driven back by the smoke a short distance from the entrance.

At the mouth of the mine wives, mothers and children waited in anticipation for news of loved ones who were trapped in the burning mine. Efforts to communicate with the imprisoned men were in vain. Little hope was held for their safety.

Efforts to rescue them through an air shaft proved unavailing. Air was forced into the mine through an emergency pipe from compressors, and the hope was that they might be able to get to the air and escape suffocation. An effort was being made to tunnel around the fire-trapped persons of the shaft and reach the men in the summer.

Many regrets were expressed over her departure, and every body wished her a pleasant trip and a profitable stay in the land of perpetual sunshine and flowery. CIRCUIT COURT NEWS

The fall term of the Crittenden County Circuit Court convened Monday morning with Judge Carl Henderson on the bench. Commonwealth Attorney Chas. Ferguson and County Attorney John A. Moore were on hand to look after the business of the commonwealth.

After the general routine of business the following grand jury was empaneled: M. K. Givens, F. E. Cruse, C. A. Watson, W. H. Graves, J. R. Cook, F. M. Chandler, Galen Luxon, Elvin Andrews, W. H. Morris, L. H. Franklin, E. F. Sullivan, J. N. Boone.

Judge Henderson in giving his usual instructions to the grand jury called special attention to the laws against profiting. He told the jury that the prices paid for coal in Marion needed investigation, the prices on coal being, he understood, higher than at Princeton or any other neighboring town. He instructed the jury that coal dealers had no right to combine and agree to sell coal at a certain price in order to get higher prices. Coal dealers, he told the jury, had no right to make agreements with wholesale dealers not to sell coal to any person who wanted to buy, thus giving the home dealers a monopoly. Such things, the Judge said, were violations of the law and if it is shown, indictments should be returned against the party or parties. He also instructed the jury to investigate the prices at which clothing, food products, etc. are sold. Merchants, he told the jury, had no right to combine and agree to sell certain goods at a certain price, in order to make a greater profit on the same.

Judge Henderson also called the jury's attention to violations of election laws. If any such violators were found in either party, he said, they should be indicted and punished.

The following petit jury was empaneled: J. H. Croft, E. G. Masley, W. E. Britts, J. M. Barnes, J. M. Darad, J. B. Farmer, H. T. Truitt, Sam. Guss, J. H. Patton, J. L. Chandler, M. R. Deane, J. W. Givens. In the case of the Commonwealth vs. E. H. Phillips, charged with a breach of the peace, the defendant was fined $10. Two other charges against Mr. Phillips, one for carrying concealed deadly weapons and another for allowing stock to run at large, were dismissed.

Later Hughes was fined $100 for breach of the peace.

C. U. Walker was fined $10 for breach of the peace and $50 for drawing a deadly weapon.

Henry Underwood was fined $25 for involuntary manslaughter.

Lawrence Cornell was fined $200 for assault.

T. L. GASS PASSES AWAY

Mr. Timothy L. Gass died at his home in Henderson on Thursday, November 11, as a result of several months of cancer, resulting from an injury received from a fall two years ago.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The editors, publishers and owners of the Crittenden Press deserve and we extend to them the thanks of the superintendent and all the teachers of Marion High School, as well as the pupils, for the gift to the school of space in their valuable paper to publish the school news. A member of the senior class of the school has been selected to gather the news, which includes the progress of the different classes, reports of the societies, Most Congresses and Courts, foot-ball and basketball. Judging from the stride with which the present session of the school has started, this will be one of the greatest years in its history.

This year we have twenty members in the senior class or graduating class, twenty-one in the Junior class, twenty-three in the Sophomore class and forty-two in the Freshman class, making a total of one hundred and six members, which constitutes one of the largest High Schools we have ever had.

The pupils are divided into two literary societies, the Selmanthian Society for the girls, and the Manthorpean for the boys. These societies meet separately and have splendid programs twice a month and twice a month they have a joint meeting, and the program for that meeting is a most interesting one. Our first most congress met Friday afternoon Nov. 12 and at that meeting the bill giving women separate voting booths was passed by a 2-3 majority. The officers of this congress are: Mrs. W. H. Blue Jr., Speaker, Freda Belf, Clerk, Roy Allen, Sergeant at Arms, and Elizabeth Dollar, Speaker Pro Tempore. Our next meeting will be Friday Nov. 20 and all are cordially invited to attend.

We have one of the best basketball teams in the C. I. A. and they have been very successful in meeting several teams in the Association. Our foot-ball team is composed of splendid young fellows and they are progressing rapidly in their practice and we expect to hear great things from them before this school year is out. Our next game is to be played here with Clay Saturday Nov. 20 and we predict for them a great victory. Everybody come and boost your home team.

NEW FIRE ENGINE IS HERE

The new chemical fire engine which the city council purchased last spring arrived on Tuesday. A demonstrator from the factory came with the machine, which he assembled immediately.

The apparatus is mounted on a Ford chassis and has a capacity sufficiently large to extinguish a fire of considerable size and will do it quickly. The engine is equipped with chemicals which when mixed produce Carbon Dioxide, the most effective gas known for fighting fires.

This new engine cost the city about $2500, however the reduction in fire insurance premiums will be enough to repay this in a very few years.

A volunteer fire department will be organized immediately. On their hands will be the responsibility of subduing in its early stages any conflagration which might happen in Marion.

By the prompt use of this apparatus by an efficient crew, Marion will never have another calamity such as that of last year and of a few years back.

INCREASED EFFICIENCY REPORTED BY ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Proof of increased operating efficiency is found in freight movement figures of the Illinois Central for the month of October. A new record was made in the average miles per freight car per day, a new record in the average number of tons carried per car and the second highest record in the history of the road in the number of net ton miles of freight handled in a single month. The figures are announced by President C. H. Markham in a statement made public today.

The average number of miles traveled per day by all freight cars on the lines of the Illinois Central in October was 44.59. The previous high record was made in June 1917, 44.38 miles, a period when refrigerator car movement, which has a heavy influence on car mileage figures, was at its height. That this record was exceeded in October, without the heavy refrigerator car movement adds even more to the proof of increased efficiency.

The average number of tons carried by all loaded cars also reached a new record—41.1 tons.

The net ton miles of freight handled (the number of tons carried multiplied by the miles traveled) in October was 1,008,077,000, the second highest month in the history of the road. The record month was August, 1920, when 1,030,000,000 net ton miles were handled.

Mr. Markham's announcement also shows the gains which have been made in operating efficiency since April, when the strike of "outlaw" switchmen, their at its height had a paralyzing effect on freight movement.

The increase in the net ton miles of freight handled over April was 12.6 per cent and in the average car miles per day was 2.6 per cent. The increase in the average load carried per day over May, when car loading reached the low mark of the eight month period, was 12.3 per cent.

"Patrons of the railroads can add very materially to the improvement of service by urging heavier loading of freight cars," Mr. Markham said. "The increasing of the average load of freight cars is a means of improving service almost wholly within the province of shippers."

The figures announced by President Markham are for the Illinois Central system, including the Yank & Mississippi Valley Railroad.

MAKING OR BREAKING

Bringing up the children is a most important task.

The character of a child is formed principally in the earliest years and it seldom leaves the influence of the home thereafter.

It is a mistake to believe that the child is a blank slate. The child is a product of his environment and the influence of the home is the most important factor in his development.

Other parents are not so lucky. They have a child who is a product of his environment and the influence of the home is the most important factor in his development. They are not so lucky as the child who is a product of his environment and the influence of the home is the most important factor in his development.

It is a problem indeed for the parent who has a child who is a product of his environment and the influence of the home is the most important factor in his development. The child is a product of his environment and the influence of the home is the most important factor in his development.

PREACHER SENT TO JAIL.

John Stewart, a colored minister of the Macedonia Baptist church, was arrested Wednesday charged with a breach of the peace and later was brought before County Judge R. L. Moore for trial. County Attorney John A. Moore representing the Commonwealth and the minister representing himself.

The evidence of witnesses showed that Stewart, who had married a daughter of Henry McCall, a colored citizen of this city, was in the McCall home and demanding the wife, who had been staying at her father's home for some time. The wife, because of alleged former criminal treatment by her husband, refused to go with Stewart and only left an upstairs room and locked the door behind her. With due threats Stewart demanded his father-in-law to open the door, which McCall refused to do, whereupon the minister, after threatening to kill the whole family, proceeded to kick the door open and entered it with a gun. Fearing to harm him, he went to the window and with a child broke all the glass panes. Thereafter, they proceeded to demand the furniture and all other domestic articles that were in the house. McCall, seeing he would lose his nothing left, he gave the children to his daughter for safety and came out and go with his terrified wife. He did.

In the meantime, the neighbors, hearing the noise, came out and either was like demonstration at the McCall home, where the officer of the law and (Minister) was arrested.

SAVERS AND SPENDERS

"One can recall the time, thousands of your young days."

Perhaps you remember some child who was "close" with his pennies, who hid them in his bank and kept them there.

That child, even in its tender years, was imbued with the habit of saving and was cultivating the budding idea of thrift.

If you can locate that child today you will probably find a man who has made a commercial success of life, who is financially at ease even if not wealthy.

The child who saves his pennies in time becomes the man who accumulates his dollars.

But the one who spends his pennies as fast as he gets them generally finds that in after years the bank has fastened itself upon him to such an extent that his life becomes one of endless spending—always earning money but never having a surplus dollar.

The prudent financial injury you can do your child is to encourage it to go out and spend its few cents.

It marks the beginning of a bad ending.

For it is easier for a leopard to change its spots than for the spender to be anything but what he is.

TELL IT TO THE EDITOR

Every newspaper editor is desirous of printing all of the legitimate news of his subscription field. That is the object of paper.

But, unfortunately an editor is partly human, he at least is entitled to human form. He does not possess a dozen pair of hands or legs or eyes or ears for the production of this vast fund of information.

That is why the editor urges you to tell him what you know to keep him informed of the doings of your self and family, of your friends, or of the community in general.

It is the only way to make a good paper—and a good paper is one of the prime requisites to a good community in which to live and do business.

Tell it to the editor. He'll tell others. If it is reliable.

Plain duties are often not relished simply because they are plain. A little of the spectacular injected into them would cause their performance with alacrity.

JOKES BY JURY

One of the most brutal premeditated murders ever committed in the country occurred in Chicago.

Carl Washler, a former army of four, shot to death his wife and their unborn child and a "poor boob" who had been hired to stage a fake kidnapping.

A jury of men, supposedly sane, fixed his punishment at twenty-five years in the penitentiary. Good behavior will reduce it to fourteen years.

Decent people the country over have been both amazed and disgusted with this verdict.

It is becoming so increasingly difficult to locate out justice through the medium of men, juries that courts and prosecutors are beginning to consider justice in the women for jury service.

It is painfully evident that there is a lack of honor, right and justice in the present jury system.

A jury of women might bring in the death sentence for a man at home would have given the same sentence a life sentence in the penitentiary.

The majority of these murdering juries by their verdicts are up to the waist in the blood of our country.

A MESSAGE FOR YOU

It won't do you a bit of harm to look at the goods advertised in this paper.

Merchants can not afford to pay printing bills in order to advertise something that won't "stack up" on inspection. That is not the home way.

Every ad in this paper contains information of value to some person. Perhaps you are that person—but you can't tell without reading the ads.

KIDS WITH THE KIDS

The children in a certain town might mention another girl because they have little desire for the attention of the street, which is so short to most children of their age.

But there is a reason. In their hours of relaxation the parents forget the years that have flown and call up the days of their own childhood.

They enter into spirit with their children, and take an interest in those things which please the little ones.

They are comrades as well as parents, and because they are such the child does not find it necessary to drift away from home in search of enjoyment.

This training party of the parents has its beneficial result in two ways.

Through constant contact with their own superior surroundings, the child is gradually imparted to the child's each day to a manner that a child can readily understand.

And it keeps the freedom of youth in their own mature hearts.

For, after all, people are only as old as they feel.

It is better to be a year ahead of your time than a day behind. The fellow who has been behind catches up, but the man who is always a day ahead never catches up.

A father should teach his son to give up his life and himself to a family duty. He should teach his son that in this life there is no such thing as a free lunch. He should teach his son that the only way to get ahead is to work hard and to be honest.

"It is the child who ever comes down to earth, who always has good things to say."

"Lucky is the woman who can tell a lie when she hears it," says an exchange. But some don't want to hear it, and neither do some men.

If you find a button off your coat be grateful and tell your wife when she is home. It will afford her an excuse for forgetting it.

Reveries are depressing only to those who give in to them.

The NEW EDISON

THE THREE MILLION DOLLAR PHONOGRAPH

Thomas A. Edison invented the phonograph in 1877. Later he improved his original phonograph to a point where his business advisers said to him: "You may have the best phonograph in existence. Let's go ahead and market it."

Mr. Edison shook his head and replied: "I am not going to put out a new phonograph until it is so perfect that its reproduction of music cannot be detected from the original music."

Thomas A. Edison spent three million dollars in cold cash to develop an instrument which matched the human voice and all kinds of musical instruments so perfectly that the original could not be told from the reproduction—or RE-CREATION, as it is now called.

We are prepared to sell you today an exact duplicate of Edison's three million dollar Phonograph. You may even have extended terms of payment, if you desire that accommodation. First of all, however, we want you to hear this wonderful new instrument.

May we have the pleasure of demonstrating to you that Music's RE-CREATION is a reality and not merely a fanciful phrase?
